S. J. Myers and R. C. Engleman will leave the 15th for Goldsboro, N. C. to assist Charles Lutes in his horse and mule market this winter.

T. C. Rankin, of Hubble, purchased a pair of mules from Robert Hutchison for $380 and a 4-year-old mule from Robert Burnside, of Garrard for $130.

At B. W. Leigh's sale at Kidd's Store last week his $4,000 stock of goods brought cost, 10,000 pounds of tobacco sold at $10 per hundred, 57 acres of land lying in the corporate limits of Hustonville brought $145 per acre, brood mares $150 to $300, stock hogs 8 cents per pound, corn $2.25 in field. A good crowd was present.

J. W. Brown living at the Moser place on Dick's river now owned by M. F. Lawrence, holds the record for a large yield of Irish potatoes. From a planting of three bushels of seed he harvested 75 bushels of nice potatoes. This remarkable yield was grown in made soil near the river and the seed was a variety of mixtures, of a size smaller than hen eggs and planted one or two in a hill without cutting.

J. W. Brown bought a house and lot in Shelby City from Mr. Maxey for $650.

John Quincy Naylor sold two coming three-year-old mares to Jones L. Anderson for $215.

Over in Boyle H. A. Hudson bought a mule colt each from R. W. Harberson and John W. Webb at $115.

The farmers who sowed buckwheat this year report a satisfactory yield. John B. Anderson secured 20 bushels per acre on land which had grown wheat this year.

T. J. Hill sold his drove of hogs which he has been feeding at his farm four miles from Stanford on the Hustonville pike, to B. D. Holtzclaw, the local buyer, last week.

There were 48 and they weighed a total of 10,235 pounds, and were bought at $7.80 a hundred. Mr. Holtzclaw sent the porkers into the Cincinnati market.

Bedford & Tuttle, W. O. Brock and Filmore Osborne, of Clark county, were here last week and purchased four car-loads of cattle from Ike Shelby. Mr. Brock got two cars of feeders and Mr. Osborne one car, averaging 800 and Bedford & Tuttle purchased one car of yearlings averaging 1,000 pounds. The former were purchased for 6 cents and the latter at 5 1-2 cents.

A number of Lincoln county stock buyers were in Richmond Monday, which was court day there. There was about 3,000 cattle on the market and they seemed to change hands readily. Greeley Lutes, the Turnersville stockman bought a bunch weighing from 600 to 800 pounds at from 2 to 3 1-2 cents, a pound. Mr. Lutes recently purchased from Dick Cooper, of Turnersville, a herd of 30 700-pound steers, which he will put on silage himself a while before sending to market.

Victor Lear, of Garrard, purchased of J. C. Gastineau ten head of 900 pound cattle at 4 1-2 cents per pound.

A yearling male calf came to our pasture about ten days ago, owner can get same by paying for this notice and his keep. Duke & Fish, Crab Orchard. 82-3.

George Leathers, who is farming on Adam Carpenter's place, this side of Moreland, bought a cow and calf from John Carter, of Turnersville, for which he paid $35.

J. H. Murphy, four miles from Stanford on the Hustonville pike, bought for his own use, a pair of horse mules from R. C. Nunnell, of near Turnersville, for which he paid $300.

J. L. Hutchins, the Boyle stockman bought 51 175-pound hogs from Jake A. Robinson five miles from Stanford on the Danville pike at $7.85, 50 hogs of Mrs. Robert K. Tarkington at $7.65, and 23 1200-pound cattle of J. R. Knox, at 7 1-4 cents per pound.

W. B. Burton, of Lancaster, accompanied by J. L. Wiggins, of Wilson, N. C., both of whom are of the Wilson Live Stock Co. went to St. Louis, Mo., last week and purchased on that market two loads, 49 head, of mules paying therefor $210 per head. The mules were shipped direct to Wilson N. C.

Monte Fox, the Boyle stockman, has just delivered to Tom Chenault, of Madison, a herd of 86 steers that weighed from 1,000 to 2,000. Mr. Fox gathered these beeves in Wayne, Washington, Marion county and turned over to Mr. Chenault at Springfield and Lebanon, he paying from 6 to 6 1-2 cents per pound for them. These cattle will be followed by another herd of about 60 head which will be taken to Mr. Chenault's Madison county farm to be fed for the export trade.

Myers & Tucker, the Hustonville stockmen, bought a bunch of 17 or 18 butcher cattle from John Coulter of near Middleburg, Casey county, that they paid from 1 1-2 to 3 1-2 cents a pound for. From Vest Bros. of near Mt. Olive, in Casey county, they bought a herd of 925 pound feeders. There were about the same number in this consignment. These buyers have a load of steers on the Cincinnati market nearly every week, and sometimes oftener.

Probably the largest kershaw ever seen in Stanford was brought to the office of the Interior Journal this week by Sam J. Bell, the well-known farmer, out on the Daddar's Mill pike. The vegetable weighed 28 pounds, and was 23 inches long, and was 32 inches in circumference around the base, and 22 inches around the neck. It is some squash.

S. J. Myers, and R. C. Engleman, of Stanford, left this week for North Carolina, to manage depots for the Kentucky Horse & Mule Company, which has its headquarters at Goldsboro. Mr. Myers will be at La Grange, N. C., and Mr. Engleman at Fremont, N. C. This is the firm that Charles Lutes, of this city heads, and it does a big business with the southern planters in horses and mules during the winter months, handling large shipments from the Blue Grass country. Both are local men who go to join it, have had much experience in the work, and two better men for the places could not have been found.

The stinging bee has at last arrived having been produced by an English apiarist named Burrows after two years of experiment. A description of the new bee says that the hybrids are splendid workers and are less liable to disease than the ordinary honey producer. Burrows mated Syrian drones with Italian queens to produce the new bee, which, while possessing a sting, cannot use it as a weapon of offense.

Col. Jack Chinn sold his fine farm of 255 acres in Mercer county this week to Bonta Brothers, at $155 per acre. The farm is one of the best in the Blue Grass.

Jesse Sweeney, of Lancaster, who recently bought a farm out in Garrard, bought a bunch of eight three-year-old mules from J. T. Raney to use on his farm. He paid $1,200 for the herd.

J. Fleece Robinson, of Lancaster, delivered to Victor Lear, the Garrard stockman, a bunch of 55 hogs which averaged 275 pounds for which Mr. Robinson received 8 cents a pound.

W. R. Cook, of Lancaster, purchased from various dealers 50 head of cattle ranging in weight from 700 pounds to 1,100 pounds per head and costing him from $4.75 and $5.50 per hundred.

J. H. Baughman went over to the George Rubel sale, near Bryantsville Thursday and bought a pair of four-year-old mare mules for $420 and a two-year-old mare mule for $185.

W. R. Cook, of the Lancaster suburbs, is making an extensive purchase of mules for shipment to the southern market, having lately bought 25 head of hybrids ranging in age from 4 to 7 years, and costing him an average of $175 per head. Mr. Cook will ship this collection to Butler, Georgia, about the first of November.

In the World's Championship baseball series now being played in the east, Boston won the first game at New York by a score of 4 to 3. Wood pitching for Boston against Tesreau and Crandall for New York. The second game was a tie 6 to 6 in 11 innings, the game was called on account of darkness. The great Matherson pitched for New York against Collins and Hall for Boston. New York won the third game Thursday by 2 to 1. Marquard pitching for the victors against O'Brien and Bedient for Boston. Over 30,000 people have attended each game.
